A. There still appears to be a shortage of rolling stock although the use of "biets" ("pulls") makes them more easily obtainable by industry and agriculture. Locomotives appear to be plentiful.

During a three-year period on the Southwestern System, I knew of three accidents.

NO, BUT I HAVE SEEN TRUCK-TYPE TRACTORS CAPABLE OF HAULING THIS TYPE OF EQUIPMENT.

Have you seen any specialized rolling stock such as drop center or six or more axle freight cars?

In 1951 there was a European-gauge line from Jelgava, southwest of Riga, through Poland to Frankfurt.
